DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office action is in response to Application No. 09/896,232, filed on 06/29/2001.
2. Claims 1-19 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 (a) as being unpatentable over Feidelson et al. (U.S. pat. No. 6,345,261) in view of Basch et al. (U.S. pat. No. 6,658,393).

Art Unit: 3621

As per claims 1, and 3-19 Feidelson substantially discloses a customer loyalty investment program where monies received by the merchant are placed into an escrow account , comprising: the buyer and seller agreeing on a contract specifying terms and conditions (see., abstract, col 4, lines 39-58, col 13, lines 20-67); the buyer and the seller agreeing (see., abstract, col 7, lines 12-33, col 13, lines 20-67); the buyer depositing a payment in an escrow account (see., abstract, col 9, lines 53-67); the seller withdrawing from the escrow account (see., abstract, col 9, lines 53-67, col 13, lines 53-67, col 14, lines 18-44). It is to be noted that Feidelson fails to explicitly disclose a payment or multi-stage payment plan. However, Basch discloses a financial risk prediction in which installment payment plan have been provided (see., col 1, lines 24-49). Accordingly, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the customer loyalty investment of Feidelson by including the limitation detailed above as taught by Basch because this would allow customers or users to have multiple ways of payment financial debt.

As per claim 2, Feidelson discloses the claimed limitations wherein the step of the buyer and seller agreeing on a contract specifying terms and conditions includes the step of the buyer and seller agreeing to a license for property (see., col 4, lines 39-58, specifically wherein said products or services from participating merchants who have agreed to provide predetermined rebates for such purchases, rebates or license).
